Biography

Natasha joined Lloyds PR Solicitors as a Case Worker in June 2011. She has since qualified as a Solicitor in November 2013 and became a Duty Solicitor in August 2014.

Natasha is approachable, passionate and charismatic when dealing with a range of clients involved in various criminal offences ranging from murder, fraud, robbery, sexual offences, breach of UK immigration law, human trafficking and drug conspiracies. These cases are prosecuted by a number of organisations including the CPS, HMRC, National Crime Agency and Serious Fraud Office.

Dealing with cases from the offset of police investigations, through the Magistrates Courts and Crown Courts, Natasha has the advantage of seeing the evidence through early stages and navigating clients through their cases efficiently.

Natasha has great experience when it comes to those who are vulnerable. Over the years she has worked well with clients who are youths or gang affiliated. She communicates well with her clients who require the extra support through the grilling criminal and Court process.

Natasha is not only an analytical solicitor when it comes to the evidence, she is a fierce advocate in the Youth and Magistrates Court, always pushing for the best outcome for her clients.

Recognised in the Legal 500 as '_a fantastic solicitor. She gets to the issues very quickly, is excellent with clients and is incredibly organised.' And 'clients love her caring approach. Especially adept at dealing with younger clients facing the most serious of allegations.' _
