Noor joined Lloyds PR Solicitors in 2026 as a Crown Court Paralegal and is an aspiring criminal barrister. She was called to the Bar of England and Wales in October 2025 and completed her Master's in Law at BPP University.

Before joining Lloyds PR, Noor gained valuable experience as a casework intern at Advocate, supporting a wide range of pro bono cases. She was also selected as a Bridging the Bar candidate, further demonstrating her commitment to improving access to the profession.

Noor has a strong background in community-focused work, having volunteered as an assessor at Citizens Advice Bureau Hammersmith & Fulham. Alongside her academic and professional development, she served as a prison mentor at HMP Thameside through Vocalise, a student-led programme that teaches debating and public speaking skills to inmates. Noor is fluent in Arabic.
